

 THIS IS A STANDALONE NOVEL! NO SEQUEL & NO CLIFF-HANGERS!!!

 Santana, Dominique, and Kajuana have been friends since elementary school. Now as grown women with successful careers it seems that they all are praying for success in their relationships. Santana is a 27 year old CEO of a thriving publishing company. Everything that she has accomplished in her career she attributes it all to her love for God, hard work, and dedication. She has her best friends that have been with her through thick and thin and are always there for her. All that's missing is someone to spend her life with. When she meets the handsome Cortez Harper, she feels like he may very well be the one but only if he can prove to her that he wants her for who she is and not for how many zeros she has in her bank account. Dominique's walk has not been a very straight one with several detours that have caused her to feel loss along the way. But as she continues to clean up her life and walk boldly in Christ, she meets Najir, the nephew of one of her clients who makes her stop and want to continue down the path with him. Is Najir willing to walk in faith with her or will her past cause him to leave her on new found journey to finding the love of the kingdom? Kajuana is the one who is happily married out of the trio, at least that's what they all thought. Her husband Michael is starting to exhibit signs of stepping out on their marriage and returning to his drug use. Kajuana has helped Michael before to conquer the drugs but can she do it again? Kajuana promised to love Michael through good times and in bad. But, it seems to Kajuana and Michael that the bad times are outweighing the good and the vows they took are beginning to break. For these ladies dealing with different situations they all ask themselves the same question, Why Won't He Love Me?
